Escaping to the Hamptons is what every stylish New Yorker aspires to, with over 50 miles of pristine shoreline, antique shops, art galleries, white picket fences and charmingly named beaches such as Lazy Point or Gin Beach.

At the historic Mill Inn Bed & Breakfast, a beautiful white wooden clapboard house, the theme is beachside chic. Cosy yet sophisticated, it has all the ups of a family-run bolthole, and all the comforts you'd expect from a luxury hotel: kingsize beds, double marble showers, organic soaps, wifi and iPod docks in plush all-white suites.
